Statement by Nancy Wackstein, Executive Director of United Neighborhood Houses

“We are extremely pleased that City Hall News has selected Anthony Ng, Deputy Director of Policy and Advocacy at UNH, as one of its “40 under 40 rising stars.” This recognition is a well-deserved tribute to Anthony’s leadership and tireless dedication in advocating for services that support poor and working New Yorkers. Through his work at UNH lobbying City and State government and mobilizing communities around human service issues, Anthony has been instrumental in preserving and expanding youth after school and employment programs as well as English and literacy services for immigrants and native New Yorkers. Through the advocacy trainings he organizes, Anthony has trained hundreds of new community leaders across our city. We feel very lucky to have Anthony as part of the UNH family and applaud his achievements.”
